The Property-Holders League-Enthuslastic We publish this morning the preamble to the constitution of the Property Holders Langue, which will sufficiently explain the nature of that organization. Last night there was a large and enthusiastic meeting at the Chamber of Commerce, in response to the call of the Executive Committee of this association, composed of our tax-ridden citizens, of every political stripe and nationality. The crowd was so great that the large room was filled to the door, and not less than three hundred eager liateners occupied the steps and the street in front of the building, all apparently not only auxious to hear, but to lend their aid and influence, and as one of the speakers intimated, their strong arms, if Tom Hood has calledneed le, to bring the plunderers of the publie property to justice, and to extricate our city from the quagmire of corruption into which it has sunk, through the intrigues and them slowly over her face for a few moments, villainies of political office-seakers. Notwithstanding the large and mixed character of

After wringing her palms, and passing she rose with her eyes closed, and commenced her lecture. It was spoken in a clear, disthe audience, the utmost decorum and good | tinct, but not by any means pleasant voice. Har articulation was perfect, and not a word was uttered but might be understood in any part of the room. But the subject was the same pointless collection of beautiful abstractions which it has ever been our misfortune to listen to when Trance Speaking fully explain the cause and object of the was appounded. In starting, Miss SPRAGUE made it appear that the subject was suggested or furnished by the music just performed, and she immediately started off at an easy pace on the old race course of Nature. Music was the theme; the music of the trees, the trembling branches, the rolling billow, the sparkling rivulet -the grand opers of Nature; ever being performed everywhere. This was all couched in the language of our first and second rate poets-just as a boarding school Miss will read you a dissertation on the lillies of the field or the babbling brook, and introduce BYRON and BRATTLE after every third or was the precise position of our city. The fourth paragraph, of her own inspiration.

The speaker's main object, according to her own words, was to have people appreciate the music of Nature. In other words the world was too prosy and not poetical or sentimental enough. And it struck us that the object to be attained was not sufficient in magnitude to warrant the very apparent labor of the discourse. If Miss SPRAGUE's religious views are embodied in her remarks as we heard them, then is her doctrine (though it were a palpable injustice to the word to affix it to the rhapsody) merely a refined senscality. The figure used, the illustration, the sum and substance of her remarks, were music, the most refined sensual gratification that can be experienced. It is true, there was a faint attempt to reach the music of the spheres, a feeble effort to link the 'etherial music of the soul" with this sensible harmony, but it was a mere flourish of words.

THE PROPERTY HOLDER'S LEAGUE .- The meeting which took place at the Chamber of Commerce on Saturday evening, resulted in a league with the above title. The following preamble and sections of the constitution eanstitution:

constitution:

Whereas, the immense accumulation of corporate indebtedness by the City of Milwankee has filled all prudent citizens and property holders with alarm: Whereas, the notorious carelessness, and reckless, and unprincipled wastefulness with which our municipal allairs are constantly conducted, and the frauds upon the City Treasury which are constantly perpetrated, notwithstanding the repeated attempts which have teen made to inaugurate reform administrations, fill us discouragement, unless some new mode of relief and protection can be found; Whereas we are persuaded that the evils of which we complain are not all attributable to deliberate dishonesty and corruption on the part of the great body of those who take part in the administration of our city affairs, but are in the state of the part of the part of the great body of those who take part in the administration of our city affairs, but are in great body of those who take part in the administration of our city affairs, but are in great part chargesble, in our opinion, rather to inexperienced incompetency, ignorance and firesolution on the part of those in office, which renders them the casy tools of designing persons, and to the lack of accurate information among our citizens, and of the constant pressure of an enlightend public opinion upon our City Council and officers; and whereas we are of opinion that much good might be effected by a constant organized and systematic effort on the part of property holders in our city, to procure and spread information concerning the conduct of city affairs, and so to promote, among other things, fairs, and so to promote, among other things, such an enlightened public sentiment as would prove a constant terror in evil doers: therefore, our mutual protection as property holders, we, whose names are hereto subscribed form this association, to wit:

SEC. 2. This Association shall be called the Property Holders Protection League of Milwaukee.

SEC. 2. The object of this Association shall be to make an organized, continued, systematic and vigilant effort to watch the syst-matic and vigilant effort to watch the administration or city affairs; to anticipate errors and acts of mal-administration, to procure and spread among the people, accurate and timely information of threatened evils, by exposure through the public press, by bringing the real healthy and enlightened public sentiment of the people to bear directly upon those who are entrusted with the administration of our public attairs, whenever acts or neasures of a doubtful character are proposed, by invoking the protection of PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF ALDER-MEN.-At the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen, last evening, Alderman PRENse offered a resolution to appoint a committee from the Board of Aldermen to act in connection with the Investigating Committee now engaged in the Comptroller's office. He stated that from the disclosures which had been made, the public demanded a more thorough and searching examination, to extend over a greater space of time. The motion was adopted, and Aldermen Farariss, WEST and PHELPS were appointed.

A resolution authorizing the Mayor to take charge of the Clerk's and Comptroller's papers books &c., also passed, after which a resolution to obtain the assistance of E. L. EUTTRICK, Eaq., to aid in the prosecution of the Clerk and Comptroller was adopted, and the Board adjourned.

ECCEMBRING IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS —At the meeting of the Board of Education, on Saturday last, that body adopted Hanaford & Payson? Bookkeeping as a text book in the High school, in place of Crittendon. This publication has been throughly examined by the Board, and we believe it was the unanimous opinion that it was the best work of the kind, and most stitched by the for such a school as the High school, that has ever been presented to their notice.—Criticago Times.

The text book referred to above is certainly an excellent one, and we take pleasure in commending it to school teachers and others, the Chicago Board of Education.

SIRGULAR DEATH OF A COLT—A SNAKE Two FERT LONG IN 175 STONAGE.—The public cocountered the slavery question and adjusted it, but that subsequent events, unstanted in growth, and poor. A post mortem examination revealed a singular cause of its death; for in the intestines, where motification had already commenced, was found a dead make of the common striped species; fully two feet in length. The snake had undoubtedly remained in the stomach of the cott for more than a year, when it died from the effects of medicine administered to the cott, and passed into the intestines where it was discovered.

The colt doubtless swallowed the young reptile while drinking, and it had grown to the size above mentioned.

Singular Occurrence happened in Springwells a day or two since. An old well on the farm of a Frenchman named Langlois has, for a long time, been named and party filled up. On Thursday some boys who were burning brush near it threw fire-brands into it, and were nearly frightened out of their senses by an explosion, followed by a stream of fire which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes, after which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes, after which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes, after which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes, after which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes, after which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes, after which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes, after which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes, after which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes, after which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes, after which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes, after which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes, after which issued from the mouth of the well, and burned feroly for a few minutes in the first manute of the controversy. It broke ont in 18 with the idea that they had touched off a sabterranean volcano, and lost no time in getting out of the vicinity. It is supposed that arms kind of explosive gas had collected in the bottom of the well. The explosion shook the ground perceptibly, and with a loud report.—Free Press.

A BRART TRANSACTION.—An exchange paper states that a fellow in Venange country, Pa., profited in the following manner by the "sell excitement" now prevailing so extensively in the Western and Northwestern part of Pennsylvania. He bored a hole on his land, and poured a barrel of oil in it, and the constitution left no debatable land within the old limits of the Union, so the Maxico, the Slave and Free States remained at peace. The party contests in the interval turned on tariffs, banks, internal improvements, &c. But the time had now come for the nether fires to break forth again. The struggle of 1820, attended by the same circumstances, was renewed. Sectional feeling become exasperated; the stability of the Union was threatened by the incipient revels and reteran traitors of the Guif States; patriots become also his neighbors to see the large in the figure of the firm of the Union, so the Maxico, the Slave and Free States remained at peace. The party contests in the interval turned on tariffs, banks, internal improvements, &c. But the time had now come for the nether fires to break forth again. The struggle of 1820, attended by the same circumstances, was renewed. Sectional feeling become exasperated; the stability of the Union was threatened by the incipient revels in extinguishing the flames and consummation of Territory was followed by a slavery tion of Territory was followed by a slavery agitation, and that in each case it was subdu-ed, and concord restored by compremise measures. As the Jeff-ison Ordinance and the Constitution covered the old domain of Translated for the Sentinel-from the New York

On Wedneeday last, Mr. Seward pronounced in the United States Senate, a discourse which added still another testimony to the reputation he so greatly enjoys as a thinker and a statesman. Embracing in thinker and a statesman. Embracing in thinker and a statesman. Embracing in thinker and a statesman in the stration of the comprehensive, he judged them, not with the deliberation and calmness of a superior mind. The situation of the bater, but with the deliberation and calmness of a superior mind. The situation of the American Confederation, in their own eyes, and before the world at large, in reference to the subject of slavery, was the theme. Would it be able to combine prudence with humanity, peace with the duty of remaining united, strong, and independent, in despite of political irritation and the fury of party etrife? Mr. Seward declared for the affirmative; and he based his opinion upon questions of general interest, common to the North and to the South, and perfectly national in their character.

Mr. Seward commenced by announcing as Who let loose the imprisoned winds again? Who left the tempt twice wonderfully pre-questions of general interest, common to the large and state of the link bearing in German, you might be seen whatever or the link bearing or hearing anything about it. As I have a knowledge of this fact, it becomes any doty, being of link neight on specific to show an expressional state of the link bearing on the link people, to whom the said seem shretly to the link people, to whom the said seem shretly to the link people, to whom the seed secrety to the link people, to whom the seed secrety to the link people, to whom the seed secrety to the link people, to whom the seed is desired.

REFLY.

Mr. Garrel Barry requests me "to give the insult to the link as a prople, an insertion in the mill wanke e New?" I am convinced that it would be greatly to the advanting of Ex-Captain Barry to get acquainted with a great many good and sound things.

the Irish were ever ready to vote for the Democratic party—the tool of the slaveholding power.

If Mr. Barry calls the stating of the above facts an insult to his nationality, so let it be. I cannot siter the fact that Mr. Barry and his countrymen have hitherto been the adherents of the Democratic pro-slavery party; and the Ailas has the right to condemn this tendency, and can make use of this right, as the Damocratic party has not got the freedom of the press.

Considering the removal of Capt. Barry, I openly say that this was one of the best and most descripts and most descripts and the Ailas has the right to condemn this being decapitated, so that he lost all pressuance of mind, and wrote letters and communications which he, for his own interest, abould never have written. MENTAL LABOR LOST .- One evening last week, while Judge Culver was on a visit to his daughter's house in 34th street, New York, some thicf got into the hall and stole his overcoat. In the pockets were the manunis overcoat. In the pockets were the infinite scripts of two lectures, which had taken the Judgo much time and labor to prepare, and which were to be delivered shortly. The Judge has bought a new overcoat, but he is inconsolable for the loss of his appeares. So inconsolable for the loss of his speeches. So says a New York paper, but we suppose without adequate authority, for it is hardly to be presumed that the learned Judge has forgotten a similar accident which occurred to Sir Isaac Newton, whose pet dog, in whisking round, set fire to a pile of manuscript, containing the results of many years of astronomical calculations. All that the great philosopher said on that occasion was: "Diamond, thou little knowest the mischief thou hast done."

hast done." A Handsome Sandstone.—We saw to-day, in the office of Messra. Donnell & Kntzbock, a small block of red sandstone which had been taken out of a vast bed in some land on the line of railroad in the town of Middleton, and which is owned by Mr. Frank Gault, the County Treasurer. The block has been dressed by Mr. Perkins, the contractor for the stone work of the State Lanatic Asylum, and shows a close grain, and is hard and compact. Judges of stone pronounce it to be very rare and valuable, and all intending to build, should certainly examine this sample. We regard this bed of sandstone as a rich addition to the already abundant resources of Dane county.—Mad. Patriot.

The scene was more beautiful for to my eye,
Than if day in its pride had arrayed it;
The land breeze blew mild, and the zzure-arched sky
Look'd pure as the spirit that made it. The murmur rose soft as I silently gun'd On the shadowy waves' elect notice, From the dim distant isle, till the bargon fixed b'kk'd Like a star in the midst of the ocean. No longer the joy of the sallor boy's breast Was heard in his wildly breathed numbers. The sea-bird had flown to ber wave-girdled nost, The figherman sunk to his alumbers.

One moment I looked from the hill's gentle slope

The time is long past and the scene is alar:
Yet when my head rests on its pillow,
Will the memory sometimes re-kin ite the star,
That blaz'd on the breast of the billow.

In life's closing hour, when the trembling soul flies, And death wills the heart's last emotion, Ob! then may the scraph of morey arise, Like a star on eternity's ocean.

There seems to be less general information in the community on the subject of ever-greens, than of deciduous trees. One reason greens, than of deciduous frees. One reason is, that the former don't bear fruit. Did only nampkins, apples, or potatoes, grow upon them, they would be more popular and better understood. But generally they are considered as merely ornamental trees, and that is enough to condemn them with many people. Another reason is, that comparatively little has been written about them. If the and health can be estimated by dollars and entity it is worth its weight in gold.

New York Bank Statement. - The statement of the New York Banks for the week ending to-day, as re-ported by relegraph, shows the following changes:

> COMMERCIAL. Monnay P. M., March 12th, 1409.

Flour begins to more quite freely, and at good round prices two. Some eight hundred old barrels changed hands to-day. The sales include 500 bbls "Milwaukee Ever Estra on private terms—a brant which sold last week at $1,50. The balance of the sales were at $4.9465. 0 for ordinary to good country Extra. The sains of 2500 bils "Maxonanie," Extra, and 1,6-5 "White Lilly" superfine, reported in our last leads, were given in rather ambiguous terms. The correct figures plainly stated were $5.35 for the "Mazomanie" rec on board May 1st, and $2,50 for the "White Litty "

There seemed u, be a pretty general disinclination to operate in wheat at the opening to-day, and until after the receipt of the New York report but few sales were made. That seemed to restore the market somewhat to made. That seemed to restore the market somewhat to its fermer bacyancy; but aren then the parties willing to sell at Saturday's prices considerably communiced the buyers. With one or two unimportant exceptions in the early part of the day, however, no concession was made on the part of helders, and the market closed tem'r, the rating figures being $1,00 for No. 1 on the track; and $1,11%1,12% for milling Club to Extra deof saturday has the following market report:

The market yesierday in no respect differed from the day previous, except, perhaps, that it was slightly more bucyant with increased firmness after the receipt of the favorable news by the steamer. Of wheat the deliveries were about 1,500 bus. The prices paid for wheat ranged from $1,500 bus. The prices paid for wheat ranged from $1,500 bus. The prices paid for wheat ranged from $1,500 bus. The prices paid for wheat ranged from $1,500 bus. The prices were paid 1,10 for good to prime. The latter flaures were paid 1,100 for good to prime. The latter flaures were paid $1,500 bus not so plential and firm at 38,000 bus. Then it rather more bucyant, although mey get having difficulty in definitely fixing quantistons. The following is pretty near the mark:—Superfline $1,500 bus fancy $4.800 bus. The rather market $1,000 bus earn $6,700 busineds, $1,000 bus earn $6,700 busineds, $1,000 bus dands, $1,000 bus dands, $1,000 bus ands, $1,000 bus and $1,000 bus ports. Hereafter, the weather permitting, she will sail from this port for Two Rivers every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and for Chicago every Wednesday, Friday and Monday. The Gazel's is a new and stanged boat, and she is commanded by a gentleman who has ew superiors in the science of steamboat navigation. THE STORM of Sunday night was, perhaps, the most severe we have had in this locality since the great equinoctial gale of last fall. The wind was N. N. E.-It commences to swing strongs at the forgunil about midnight. The steamship Letroit sailed at her neual hour, and crossed the Lake in the worst of the gale.—Although the weather Las been quite rough since the Detroit commenced running, with two or three heavy Series: of Saturday thus reports the market:

THE PROSPECTS OF BREADSTCIPES.—The table following shows the quantity of breadstuffs exported from the various ports of the United States, to Great Britain and the Continent, from September 1st, up to the present date for the year 1550-59, and three preceding variations.

1507-55 $60,001 128 8,860,025 134,1367
1505-59 124,074 20 405,485 331,039
1509-60 250,255 311,080 20,548
From this statement, it is apparent that the aggregate export of breathaton's for the current year is somewhat below that of last. Under the head of flour, there is an increase of 111,274 barrels, and the export of wheat shows an excess of 18,562 business; but the decrease from its 301,403 business; as compared with the years 1856-51and 1867-58, the falling off is immense.—
In 1866-57, the quantity of flour shipped was more than that of the present year by 727,232 barrels, of wheat, $647,500 business; and of corn, $2,141,522 taxless. The decrease of this year, as compared 1957-58, is on flour, $617,230 barrels, on wheat, $2,929,608 bushels; and on corn, 1,315,327 bushels.
The cause of this remarkable deciline in grain and flour exports is attributable to the absence of an active demand from absond. The Bettish market has been supplied with a fair house crop, and its deficiencies have been made up to a large extent by imports from the present pountries, these leaving our own produce to the chalaces of specialistic without, which are the present of the present countries, these leaving our own produce to the chalaces of specialistic proving section has been, have not been sufficient to induce any extensive consignments. The yield of the last crop was but little under an average, and there must, therefore, be a considerable preparation of the eas-son's produce will in the hands of ine farmers and the grain merdensity, and there more favorable chances of export. The anticipations of an extensive export have been disappointed, and those who based thereon an expectation of a revival of the Wastern rade this spring have found their exceptional in the history of the trade, the exports being for the former $63,625,634, that those years were quite exceptional in the history of the trade, the export being for the former $63,625,634, that those years were quite exceptional in the history of the trade, the exports being f
